You know the business from your side of the game. Now put yourselves in the contractor's shoes and run the construction company. Try to increase your working capital, stay out of the bank and avoid putting personal cash into the business. Need to buy more equipment? Do you want to negotiate indemnity, subordination? Can you survive poor receivable collection, under billings?

The Bond Game is an interactive training session designed to review the numerous circumstances and events which affect the contractor-surety relationship. Power point graphics are used for visual effects and Hershey kisses are your working capital, bank line and personal cash. Drive your company vehicle across the game board. Can your team be the strongest at the end of the game? Come to this seminar and enjoy both a serious and lighthearted review of surety principles.

You must be pre-registered to receive CE Credit.
